International Competence

Improve your Knowledge and Practical Experience

RheinAhrCampus of the FH Koblenz, situated in Remagen, between Bonn, Cologne and Koblenz, on the rivers Rhine and Ahr, has a welcoming and friendly environment.

"I learnt more than I expected... RheinAhrCampus is the perfect place to start your international career."

Vaida from Lithuania

"I liked campus and people so much that I stayed for a second semester."

Caitlin from Australia

"Diversity was the guiding theme of my semester and my internship!"

David from Hungary

Global Community

Act with Confidence in a Globalised World

The ability to work effectively in an international context is one of the demands of the modern world. RheinAhr-Campus and its international programmes help students to acquire the skills relevant for a successful international career.

- Widen your knowledge base and put it to the test in practical situations
- Sharpen your awareness of cultural differences
- Learn how to deal with different expectations and value systems

- Develop strategies for intercultural encounters
- Increase your professional competence as well as your flexibility in dealing with unfamiliar situations and people
- Return home with skills that are transferrable to your future work situation, regardless of your specialisation

Step out into the world with confidence.

Campus Internship

Academic Internship for Exchange Students

During your paid internship you are involved in everything that happens in a busy university department: teaching assistance, running a language laboratory, communicating with local and international lecturers and students, advertising RheinAhrCampus to partner universities, organising meetings and workshops. You also design web pages, blogs, and prepare material for e-learning platforms.

You learn how to function in a different cultural setting, develop management skills and enhance your communication/liason skills in an international environment.
