(B) Nicholas Rescher (a descendant of the Rescher family) has written a very detailed family history = "Autobiography (Nicholas Rescher collected papers)" with 342 pages, published by Ontos Verlag in Frankfurt/Main (Germany) in 2008 for the price of 79 Euro. Biography on Nicholas Rescher =

(C) Samuel Pappenheimer had emigrated to York, Pennsylvania USA around 1840 and just started to make money as a peddler, when he died unexpectedly. He was buried at the Old Jewish Cemetery in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. Gravestone with Hebrew epitaph still exists = www.jewishchambersburg.com/br3-28.shtml

(D) In 1861 Otto Pappenheimer offered a backyard building of his factory as Synagogue for the newly founded Cannstatt Jewish community. By 1875 a bigger Synagogue had to be built, as the Jewish Community had grown rapidly.

(E) Solomon Falk + stepbrother Victor Falk + Albert Pappenheimer were all involved in the oil pressure lamp business in England. Solomon Falk joined as managing director around 1880 "Falk Stadelmann & Company Ltd" in London, which then was a pioneer business in the history of lighting in the UK and Europe. Victor Falk was the company secretary. "Veritas" pressure lanterns were sold all over the United Kingdom. <http://homepage.ntlworld.com/munai/veritas.htm>
